LOYOLA UNIVERSITY

Foreword

Loyola University, in the centuries-old Jesuit educational tradition, develops the whole man—his moral character as well as his mind; his soul as well as his body. It aims to form a cultured citizen, loyal to his God, his Church, his country. In the 1932 WOLF, we show you how Loyola, in the performance of this function, finds her place in the modern world.

Dedication...

Pius X was beatified in Rome on June 3, 1951. The evidence that he had practiced virtues to a heroic degree during life was incontestable.

On August 4, 1903, Pius X was elected Pope. As successor to Peter and Head of the Universal Church, he was truly a wonder-worker. He reformed ecclesiastical music; drove the heresy of Modernism out of Catholic ranks; recodified Canon Law; condemned the oppression of labor; built the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine into a globe-girdling force. He admitted children to Holy Communion at the age of discretion (usually seven years); and conducted a world-wide campaign to promote the practice of frequent, even daily, Communion on the part of the laity, a practice credited with the strengthening of the Church amid the moral dangers of the twentieth century.

Grateful that we are members of the Church which produced this great and good man, we, the Editors, dedicate the 1952 WOLF to Blessed Pius X on the occasion of his beatification.

OF OUR CAMPUS...

CHURCH OF THE HOLY NAME OF JESUS

In its labors for the cause of Christ, the Society of Jesus has always considered education one of its chief works. In these buildings on the St. Charles Avenue campus of Loyola University, the four-hundred-year-old tried and proved Ratio Studiorum of the Society of Jesus serves as the basis of the University training of the South's Catholic leaders of tomorrow.

THE BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

LOUISE C. THOMAS HALL

AND TO SERVE

Loyola University began as a College of Arts and Sciences, and has, over the course of the years, added more and more schools and colleges, until today it consists of the following: Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Pharmacy, Dentistry, Business Administration, and the Schools of Law and Music. There is also an Evening Division, which grants, in addition to the other degrees, the degree of Bachelor of Commercial Science. Thus everyone is given an opportunity to acquire an education on the higher level. The newest addition to the University's facilities is the Graduate School in Education, wherein the city's teachers can further their professional status in a Catholic atmosphere.

Yet with all the emphasis on professional preparation, the University has not lost sight of its original goal. The humanities, philosophy and theology, still form the cultural and religious core of Jesuit education.

GOD AND OUR COUNTRY.

CLASSES

The University is the training ground for the leaders of the world. It is with this in mind that the students of Loyola of the South look to the future, a future clouded with uncertainty and insecurity. Their's is the task of changing the world; their's is the sublime mission of infusing the spirit of Christ into a world which needs it so desperately.

Behind each graduate are four years of the best in education. In each undergraduate there exists the potentialities of a Catholic leader, a true apostle. He is the man for the job, the job of changing the world. This is the aim of Loyola . . . Loyola's duty to the modern world.

TALENT NIGHT

Blue Key's Annual Talent Night show was a smashing success this year. It commemorated the 20th anniversary of Loyola's chapter of the organization. Held on December 14, 1951, it showed that Loyola is justly proud of its excellent and varied talent. Pete Rideau, with his sparkling, side-splitting witticisms, ran away with the first place individual award. The victorious skit staged by P. K. E. was the hilarious "Paul Revere in Red Tape." The group award was merited by Lambda Mu Delta's clarinet-saxaphone quartet of Wilber Phillips, Marion Caluda, Alcee Meric, and Jack King.

Second place individual award was won by Don Bernard, bass baritone, and Irlee Leclere, pianist was third. Kathy Brady, campus queen, reigned over the evening with her court: Jackie Carriere, Ida Chirieleison, Nancy Massa, Patsy Stephens, Betty Ann Scheib, and Mary Jane Williams.

RADIO PROGRAMS

From what's wrong with the modern world to music—this goes out over the airways on Loyola's own radio shows. On Faculty Panel, timely topics of interest to every wide-awake citizen are discussed. The swing music originates on Campus Capers, Loyola's variety show. An all-student cast, the group supplies musical entertainment on a par with professional shows. Highlighting activities for the group this year was an appearance on T.V. in behalf of the Field House drive.

A newcomer to Loyola's shows was Education Today, describing courses currently being offered by the university.

MED-TECH SHOW

T. N. T. VI, the sixth big annual Med-Tech show, went off with a BANG this year. Presented April 25, its circus theme was carried out by a lively group of clowns, tumblers, gypsies, and "real live" animal acts. Its ample supply of talent included both students and such guest stars as the Med-Tech '50 graduates, Audrey Schuh, soprano, Dr. Lucien C. Delery, organist, Dr. Meffrie R. Malta, magician, Humberto Valladeres, and Professor Timothy L. Duggan with his singing banjo. There were two Mistresses of Ceremonies, Claire Rodriguez and Laurie Coco, in the show directed by Doctor Arnold.

FIELD HOUSE SHOW

High point of the Field House fund drive last summer was the musical variety show, "The Fourth Wish," displaying at its best the talent for which Loyola is famous. Leo Zinser, Thespians director, highlighted the evening in his role as Cyrano deBergerac in the death scene of Rostand's great drama. Each of the many enthusiastic students performed his part with the aplomb and timing of a trouper, whether he was on stage or was in the equally vital but less glamorous behind-the-scenes work.

Among the events leading up to the show in which the school spirit manifested itself most dramatically, were the never-to-be-forgotten motorcade, the bonfire that wouldn't burn, and the pre-season basketball game as well as the end-of-the-summer dance.

At the end of the drive, when all the totals were added, it was learned that the Field House Show had helped to boost the Fund to over $360,000.

THESPIANS SHOW

Among the top-notch Thespian shows presented this year was the comedy "Out of the Frying Pan," the group's first venture "in the round." It was followed up by another presentation in the round, Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," starring Kathy Brady and Andre Fontaine. After these successes, Thespians staged Oliver Goldsmith's Restoration comedy, "She Stoops to Conquer," starring Brooks Homan and Sally McNamara. During Lent, Thespians presented "Pilate," a passion play written by Leo Zinser, director of the group. They wound up their season with a burst of splendor in a series of three Eugene O'Neill one-act plays, "Ile," "Bound East for Cardiff," and "In the Zone," starring Ted Pfister, Pinky Vidacovich, Leo Duffy, Charles Poche, and Charles Gendusa.

The plays have drawn very favorable comment from the critics, especially for their successful ventures "in the round."

YDEMOCS SHOW

What with the Flying Saucers, Futuristic Comics, and Ray Guns, Ydemoc fell right in line with their presentation of the show This Was America. The show, written by Harry Theard, had its setting in a history class on the Planet Mars. The green-faced students studied life as it was lived on earth in the year 1952.

Included in the show were dances, songs, and a stunt depicting a well-known American hero in the hands of the Germans in the last war.

Running on, the show pictured American college life in the typically Ydemoc style, that is with humor and a fast flowing manner.

WWL

WWL, Loyola's 50,000 watt clear-channel station, has, in its almost thirty years of radio broadcasting, grown tremendously from its early days in the Physics workroom. It now has spacious quarters at the Roosevelt Hotel.

Under the management of Howard Summerville, the station, affiliated with the Columbia Broadcasting System, is noted for broadcasting the best of programs to its vast listening audience. It is also noted for the variety of entertainment which it affords which includes, in addition to its regularly scheduled programs, sports events, news and special broadcasts of interest to the public. Always expanding, it has applied for a television station so its high quality programs may be seen as well as heard.

CAMPUS LIFE

When the Frosh enter, they're pretty confused. Here Dr. Eberle tries to straighten them out.

Then they are OKed by the Dean of Students.

and pay their life savings to the Bursar.

The Student Council gives a hop just for them to make them feel at home.

Here's pie in their eye.

Amid much sympathy from fellow Frosh

So they finally register

Frosh totem pole . . . Everybody's low man on this one.

But the Gorgeous Judge of the Kangaroo Court says they gotta suffer. Sooo---

A little work by the cleanup squad leaves the victims good as new and now they're in.

And Big Chief Bored-in-face administers

. . . . a lemon meringue facial.

What do Loyolans do? Well, they mix up weird and smelly potions in the Chemistry lab, . . .

learn what makes the world go round in Physics, and do an awful lot of research in the Library.

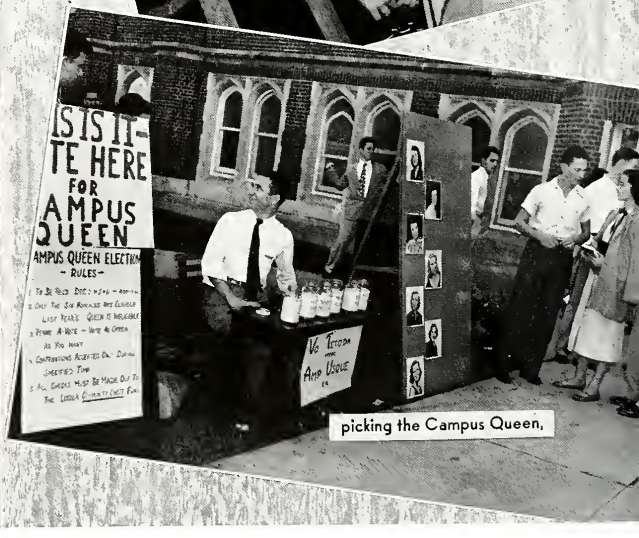
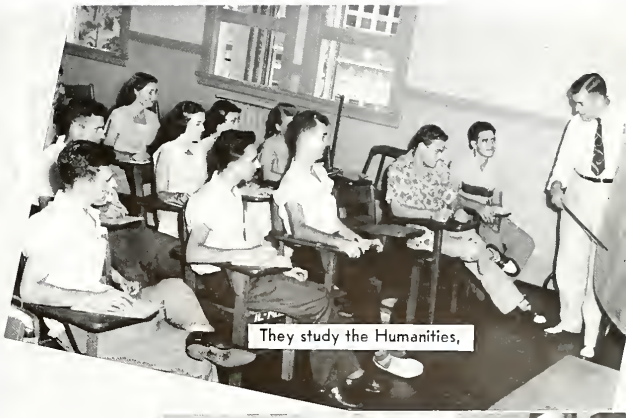
But then there's the social side of Loyola life, like the parties,

following the Wolfpack,



picking the Campus Queen,

or mouth manipulation in Dentistry.



They study the Humanities,

the annual Christmas Carol Sing, listening to the World Series,

(a pleasant task any way you look at it),

or just plain gabbing in the Cafeteria.

FRATERNITIES . . .

INTERORGANIZATIONAL COUNCIL

The council is composed of representatives from all the organizations on the campus. Its purpose is to furnish a means of expression for student organizations regarding school activities and to act as a liaison between the organizations and the Student Council as well as the administration. It was organized at Loyola in 1951. The initial activity of the I. O. Council was to reach the campus quota for the Field House Drive. For the '51 semesters the officers were: President, Harold Lamy of Blue Key and Secretary Flora Jean Grau of Le Cercle Francais. The officers for the '52 semesters were President Gene Hymel of Blue Key and Secretary Ann Truax of Beta Epsilon Upsilon.

BLUE KEY

The most outstanding of Blue Key's activities is their Annual Loyola Talent Night at which the Campus Queen and her court are presented. Blue Key also sponsors the Heart Drive Campaign each year. Blue Key's officers for the Fall Semester were: President, Harold Lamy; Vice President, John Carrigy; Recording Secretary-Treasurer, Victor Bradbury; Corresponding Secretary, Newell Schindler; Alumni-Secretary, Patrick Schott. For the Spring Semester of '52 the officers were; Gene Hymel, President; Rene Pastorek, Vice President; William Redmann, Recording Secretary-Treasurer; William Watkins, Corresponding Secretary; Kent Satterlee, Alumni Secretary. Dr. John G. Arnold, Moderator.

BOTTOM ROW—Anthony Pittari, William Redmann, Kent Satterlee, W. C. Scarlato, Newell Schindler, Pat Schott, William Watkins. MIDDLE ROW: G. R. Coomes, Gene Hymel, Emmett Johnson, L. C. LaCour, Harold Lamy, Thomas Nielsen, Rene Pastorek. TOP ROW—Dr. Arnold, V. J. Bradbury, John Browne, John Carigy, Thomas Casey, J. L. Cassidy, Richard Chritian.

ALPHA PHI OMICRON

It's almost an axiom around Loyola that if you need something done, get A P O to do it. That cartoon on page 244 of the WOLF showing a little man struggling along with a baby grand piano may be slightly exaggerated—but it symbolizes the tasks A P O tackles.

Less spectacular tasks are A P O's forte also, whether it's ushering at the Forum lectures, collecting attendance slips at the Monthly Mass, or helping distribute the WOLF. But it's generally agreed that A P O's most outstanding service to the University is publication of the annual Student Directory, which is distributed free to the student body.

Fall semester officers were Newell Schindler, president; David Hissong, vice-president; Kenneth Manual, secretary; and Ed Vinet, treasurer.

Officers for the Spring semester were Larry Derbes, president; Ed Vinet, vice-president; Larry Roy, secretary; and Larry Elizardi, treasurer.

LAMBDA SIGMA LAMBDA

Members of Lambda Sigma Lambda service sorority aid the university at any time duty calls. Through the active work of co-eds, service is rendered in registration, helping publicize Loyola Forums, ushering at activities sponsored by the university, serving in campus drives throughout the year, and helping out with any other work called for on the campus.

PI KAPPA EPSILON

"Progress, achievement, success." That's P.K.E.'s motto; and the Loyola chapter of this national commerce fraternity seems bent on living up to it.

Fall President Pete Talluto, and later, Spring Prexy George Connolly, were able to line up tours of the Borden Ice Cream Plant on the Airline Highway, the Belle Chasse Sea Train Terminal over on the west bank of the river, and the Wembley Tie Plant. (The new cravats displayed by the members making the Wembley tour seemed to suggest that it was the most profitable of their studies in the field.)

Of course there were those who claimed that the "tour" of the Jax Stein Room—held in the guise of a stag—beat all the other travels. But apparently these holdouts didn't attend the Spring Formal, which by informal poll was P.K.E.'s most popoular event of the year.

Talluto's officers were: Al LeBoeuf, vice-president; Al Laiche, secretary; Victor Dauphin, treasurer. Connolly's cohorts: Gene Hymel, vice-president; Al Laiche, secretary; and Frank D'Aquin, treasurer.

THESPIANS

REV. GEORGE T. BERGEN, S.J.,
Thespian Moderator

Thespians, the Loyola dramatic group, had one of its most successful years. Besides the production of several plays of unusually high calibre the group also won the Blue Key service award. Also the group found time to sponsor a winning pantomime team on television. Another outstanding feature of the year was the Passion Play, "Pilate," which was written by the group's Director, Leo Zinser, and directed by George Kelly, Thespian President. Other officers were Anna Copponex, Vice-President; Evelyn Tagliarini, Secretary; Emmett Johnson, Treasurer; Blanid Sullivan, Historian; and Vincet Tusa, Sergeant-at-Arms.

ACADEMY OF THE FINE ARTS

Faculty members, alumni and students interested in music, literature, drama and poetry form the membership of the Fine Arts Club.

At informal meetings, usually in the homes of members, recordings are played or guests lecture to the group.

Throughout the year, Jack Reinecke and Clarence Rareshide, co-presidents, arranged such programs as "The Lady is Not for Burning," a Broadway dramatic success on record; "Aspects of Modern Painting," a lecture by Mr. John Cassidy of the Newcomb Art School; a symphonic program on record; and Dr. Michel's lecture on the Renaissance humanitarian "Erasmus."

AGRAMONTE

Agramonte pre-medical society was organized in 1940. Its purpose is to prepare its members for the study of medicine, to install high ideals and promote fraternal cooperation.

During the year Agrimonte has toured Charity Hospital and studied the patients in various wards. The society also sponsored a motorcade of 20 cars to the leper hospital at Carville. On the social side, a very successful banquet was held.

Officers were: President Ronald Aucoin, Vice President Sidney Menard, Secretary Edward Dewey, Treasurer Charles Dugas, Historian Edward Craine.

PEP SQUAD

A group of girls with the Loyola Spirit, that's the Pep Squad. These girls and their white gloves were an eye-catching feature at the Loyola home games. Not to be outdone by other schools, many of the girls went on the road trips with the team to Hammond and Baton Rouge. Veterans of television, they delighted many a home-viewing fan with their card-routines and synchronized hand-movements, giving the professional touch to their whole-hearted cheering.

These are the girls who cheered our team to many a victory.

JUNIOR AMERICAN

The Junior American Dental Association which was reactivated in October 1951, is composed of the entire student body of the School of Dentistry. The purpose of the Junior Association is to stimulate student interest in the activities of organized dentistry. The primary activity will consist of regular meetings and featuring a scientific program. The desire of the Junior American Dental Association is to procure renowned speakers and clinicians for the meetings.

Dent's relax for a pleasant evening.

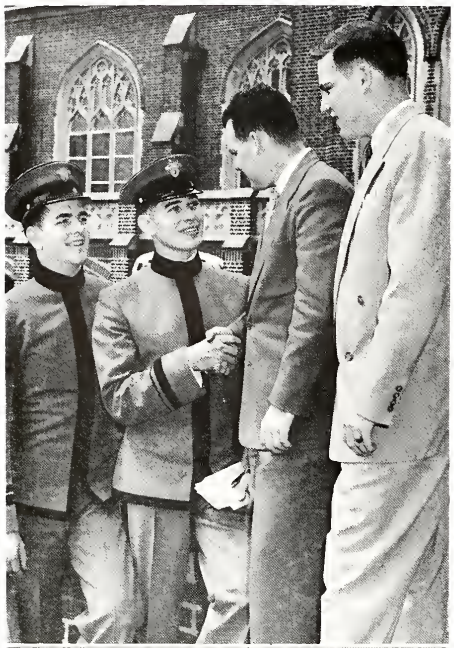
EDWARD D. WHITE DEBATING SOCIETY

Top—West Point debaters congratulate Rene Pastorek and Norris Fitzmorris.

Bottom—Pat Schott has a pre-debate discussion with the Princeton team.



One of the fastest growing organizations, both in size and interest, in the past three semesters has been the Edward Douglas White Debating Society. Membership has been increasing and is currently at twenty-five. Considerable student interest has been generated by the weekly debates and discussions on timely topics. In the past, such debated subjects as the Peace Talks in Korea, American Ambassador to the Vatican, and the Taft-Hartley Act have been undertaken by the group.

The Society has played host to two leading debating groups: those of West Point and Princeton. On both occasions, the Loyola teams met defeat, but valuable experience was gained.

Fall semester officers were Rene Pastorek, president; Norris Ftizmorris, vice-president. In the Spring Mike O'Keefe took over, assisted by Adrian Cordes as vice-president.

DEUTSCHER VEREIN

Originally organized to further enjoyment and appreciation of German music, art, literature and folklore, this club, idle for some years, was reorganized in 1946, changing the old title, "Froh Sinn", to the one which it now bears. The highlight of the year was the annual "Bier Abend" in the Stein Room of the Jax Brewery. On the cultural side, the club sponsored a lecture on the life of Richard Wagner, with recorded selections of some of the composer's works.

Officers of the year, were Elwood Gonzales, president; Robert Stearns, secretary, and Thomas Gavin, treasurer.

YDEMOC

GILBERT SATTERLEE,
President

YDEMOC may spell COMEDY backwards, but YDEMOC is also another way of spelling "entertainment." Depending on its student members for original material, YDEMOC was able in June to present an ambitious word and song theatrical panorama called "This Was America."

The June presentation was staged and directed by Harry Theard.

President of the humor group is Gilbert Satterlee; Vice-President is Norris Fitzmorris; Secretary, Millie Lakofsky; Treasurer, Pinky Vidacovich; Sergeant-at-Arms, Carrel Epling.

Here they are. The people who are to blame or praise for this Wolf. To the editors' lot fell many long hours debating the contents of this book. To the business staff fell the gathering of the funds to operate. To the editorial staff went the job of drawing up the dummy, collecting the pictures, and writing the script. The staff, to add to their work, sponsored a high-school day to help the many schools in the area put out their yearbooks.

But all was not work. The annual banquet at Delmonico's and the picnic over the lake in September, the songs of "Rambling Rick" Gutknecht, Walt Shuster's pipe, and the general clowning around of the rest of the staff served to make the work lighter and held the staff to the book.

The staff still remembers the times they plotted murdering those who continually asked "When's the book coming out?"

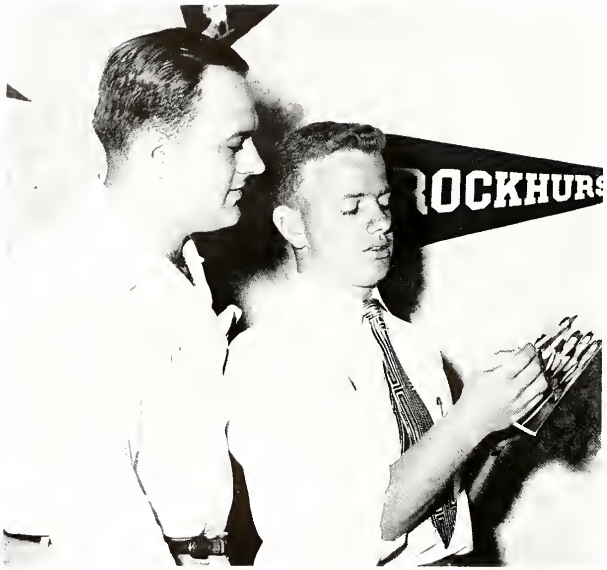
THE STAFF



ALVIN LA COSTE, RICK GUTKNECHT, Sports Editor.

The usual battle with camera-shy students plagued the class editor until he was almost ready to resign. The last-minute rush to get out material that had been long neglected resulted in hectic days of constant running and obtaining pictures in order to publish the book as close as possible to the delivery date. But even through the days that followed the neglected deadline, the book was a pleasure to put out. The editors and the staff of the 1952 Wolf hope you enjoy looking at this book as much as we have enjoyed putting it out.

There is no lack of excitement in the lives of prospective newspapermen. From the time the first "copy" is being written, through the many re-writings and until the "head" is tacked on to the finished story, Maroon Staff members hustle this way and bustle that way, ignoring the call of the sand-man until the finished product is on its way to the printers.

Once the copy is in the hands of the press-men, a new job awaits the paper's Editorial Staff. The long narrow "galleys" of printed copy must be corrected for typographical errors: crazy things like tagging one man's picture with another man's name; writing down an S. C. when you mean S. J. There are the long Thursday afternoons when Friday morning means a quiz and the books are in a school locker ten miles away. But when the final page galleys are made, there is a sense of accomplishment.

MAROON

The Maroon Business Staffers are the ones who throw the key blocks for the ball-carrying reporter. Things like money obtained through local and national advertisement; balancing the budget so that there is enough left over for a tiny banquet; and most important, circulating the paper among the students.

And then there is the reader, the reason for the existence of a school paper. The Letters to the Editors column often caused quite a stir stating the opinions of the students regarding campus activities and the editorials and columns. The latest information on the activity of the Student Council appeared in every issue of the paper. All that went into the Maroon was a combined effort, the editorial and the business staff working together to bring the students of Loyola a paper of which they could be proud.

THE STAFF

Time out for a song—that's Rick Gutknecht with the uke Evangeline Molero is the one with the pretty eyes; Larry Callen accompanies on the typewriter.

A school paper naturally attracts students interested in expressing their views to a large audience, and the Maroon is no exception. Staff members from all colleges, above average scholastically, were assigned "beats" during the school year and faithfully (more or less) brought in their assignments. The reporter, the eyes of the newspaper, starts the news process in operation.

LAW REVIEW

A popular source of news and information for students and alumni of the School of Law is the Law Review. Founded in 1941, the annual publication keeps lawyers and future lawyers up to date on the latest progress and developments in their chosen field. Officers of the Review include Rene Pastorek and Harold Lamy, co-presidents; William Redman and Donald Beslin, co-case editors; and George Coumes, book-review editor. Members of the student editorial board are Blake Arata, Edward Doyle, Charles Kronlage, Marcel Meunier, Jr., Patrick Schott, Thomas Watkins, Albert Byrnes, James Cockfield, Marjorie Fox, Armand Gutierrez, Melvin Ramos and Albert Roberts.

WHO'S WHO

Thirty-two outstanding students were added to the list of "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities" from Loyola's campus this year. These thirty-two were chosen for their high scholastic standing and their participation in extra-curricular activities.

Who's Who is a national index of outstanding collegiate personalities, giving a brief biographical sketch of its members and an account of their civic and campus activities. Its purpose is to promote interest in college activities and furnish the business world with an index of the best that universities have to offer.

Each student receiving this award is entitled to wear the organization's key and is given a copy of "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

Nomination to Who's Who is one of the highest honors that a student can receive while on the campus, inasmuch as the nomination is made by members of the faculty, and is a symbol of the esteem, not only of the student body, but also of the faculty, whose opinion in this matter is, of course, expert.

RHO CHI AWARD

The Rho Chi Award, donated for the first time in 1950 by the Pharmacy School Honorary Society whose name it bears, has as its purpose to stimulate academic achievement and leadership. The large, beautiful trophy on polished pedestal has quickly become a symbolic goal to all Pharmacy Freshmen. It is given to a member of the frosh class, who in the opinion of the Alpha Delta Chapter members, has been outstanding in scholarship and leadership in the freshman year. The '51 award was presented at the annual installation and dinner of the Chapter to Elinor McCloskey who has demonstrated remarkable qualities of the leadership and scholarship necessary to merit this sought-after trophy. In spite of her leadership and activity in many campus organizations, Elinor managed to maintain an A average in her scholastic efforts.

Loyola FORUM '52

The Rev. JOHN A. TOOMEY, Forum Director

Since its first lecturers appeared in 1943, the Loyola Forum has brought the great personalities of our time to a New Orleans audience.

The 1951-52 panel, arranged by Director and Founder Fr. John A. Toomey, featured the Most Rev. Fulton J. Sheen; Robert A. Vogeler; Rev. Andrei Ouroussoff, S.J.; Miss Heather Woods; and Matt E. Cvetic. These renowned speakers, appearing before an audience of thousands of both Catholics and non-Catholics have, by their expressed views, furthered the cause of Christ. The Forum, originally formed for the benefit of the student, has progressed to city-wide proportions, and is currently a permanent part of the cultural atmosphere of our city.

ROBERT A. VOEGLER

The Most Rev. FULTON J. SHEEN

The Forum audience listens attentively in the Grand Ballroom of the Roosevelt.

The only Rusisan Jesuit in the United States, Rev. Andrei Ouroussoff, spoke before the forum on "Life in Russia Tody." A descendant of one of the oldest Rusisan families, Fr. Ouroussoff is now teaching at Fordham university.

Again this year as opening speaker, the Loyola Forum was proud to present the Most Rev. Fulton J. Sheen. Bishop Sheen's voice and presentation capitivated his audience's attention as he spoke on the future of Asia.

Loyola FORUM

As always, this year there were five lectures and five large crowds in attendance.

Robert Vogeler, American businessman arrested in Hungary by the Russians, spoke on "I Was Stalin's Prisoner." Charged with espionage, Vogeler was arrested, tortured and spent 17 months in solitary confinement.

GREAT YEAR IN '52

An English newspaperwoman, Heather Woods, spoke on the topic, "I Saw A Miracle at Fatima." Converted to Catholicism in 1943, Miss Woods told the story of "a sailor, a white rose, and a dying girl" and the miracle which healed the child.

Matt Cvetic, after giving nine years service to his country as a pseudo-communist, is touring the country informing the people of the red-menace to youth through the destruction of the democratic ideal.

STUDENT RETREAT

Man's ultimate end and the reason for his existence were vividly recalled in the student retreats. Conducted by Fr. Cooper, S.J., these retreats were both the closed and the weekend types. The student was permitted to choose the week that was most convenient to him. Then on the weekend selected, he went through the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius Loyola. Daily meditations on death, heaven, and man's end were proposed, and the routine allowed enough time for the student to pray and think for himself. Daily Mass and Benediction completed the day's schedule. Many students took advantage of the closed retreats at Manresa, the Jesuit retreat house at Convent, La. For three days the retreatant lived in silence and prayer. The girl students were able to make closed retreats at Blessed Sacrament Convent in Lafayette or Sacred Heart Academy in New Orleans.

These retreats were well attended. Almost all the students took advantage of the chance to take spiritual stock of themselves and strengthen their resolutions for a better life.

Packed and ready to leave for Manresa retreat.

INQUIRY PANEL

The school year 1951-52 saw the growth into a major campus project of the Loyola University Inquiry Panel. Conducted by the Jesuit Fathers of the Loyola Faculty, the Panel serves as an important supplement to the work of the Theology Department, extending to the adult lay population of the New Orleans area an opportunity to learn the doctrines and teachings of the Catholic Church as well as her devotions and philosophy —and all this in an informal manner during the free evening hours.

Every Monday and Wednesday evenings, for twenty weeks during the school year, the Fathers lectured to the panels of interested listeners, some of them non-Catholics who wanted to find out first-hand the truth about the Catholic Church; others Catholics who wanted to refresh themselves in their Church teachings or to go deeper into her doctrine. Supplementing the lectures this year were tours of Holy Name Church, with inspection of the chalices, vestments, baptistery and so on.

This year's Panel, under the direction of Father Harold Cooper, S.J., was the most successful so far, and bodes well for the future of the Panel.

CHARLES BAILEY AWARD

Newell Schindler receives the award from Rev. Edward A. Doyle, S.J.

The Charles H. Bailey award is donated annually by the Alpha Delta Gamma fraternity to encourage among students the qualities exemplified by the late Charles H. Bailey. Because the award is a trophy which permanently remains in school, the winner is awarded a key for his merit and his name is inscribed on the trophy. The winner of this award is chosen from nominations made by the student body in the form of petitions.

Newell is always on the go.

Newel Schindler merited the award this year for his outstanding school spirit, leadership, and scholastic achievements. A '53 graduate in Music, Newell has held office in many campus organizations including Blue Key and APO. He wrote "Shin Splints," a column in the Maroon, and was a cross-country runner on the Wolfpack track team.

L. S. L. AWARD

Each year the Lamda Sigma Lamda award is presented to the outstanding co-ed at Loyola. The award is presented on the basis of loyalty, school spirit, personality, service, and scholarship. To determine the winner, each of six prominent campus organizations submit the name of a co-ed for the award. The Dean of Faculties, the Dean of Students, the Student Councilor, and two members of the faculty cast their votes for the nominees. Presentation of the L. S. L. trophy is made on Award Night.

PATRICIA McNAMARA

This year two co-eds merited the L. S. L. Award. Sally Barker, a Business Administration major, and Pat McNamara, an Education major, achieved recognition for their efforts in past years by being chosen as outstanding on the campus. Sally was secretary of the Student Council and assistant business manager of the WOLF. She was also a member of L. S. L., the Propeller Club, and the Little Flower Sodality. Pat was treasurer of L. S. L., and national advertising manager of the Maroon, student weekly. She, too, was a member of the Little Flower Sodality, and the Pep Club as well as the French Club and Kappa Delta Pi.

AWARD NIGHT

George Kelly receives Blue Key award for Thespians.

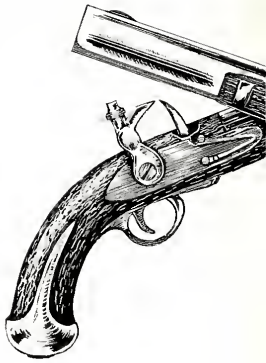
Held in February this year because of the accelerated program, Award Night saw the Sophmore class receive the Hausmannn Trophy, Monroe Caballero win the outstanding student-athlete award, and Thespians take the Blue Key award for the organization giving the most service to the university. The various schools gave out awards, and Sidney "Tiger" Wade received an award for outstanding and long service to the university.

The Hausmann Trophy, this year won by the sophomore class, was accepted by Norris Fitzmorris.

The award for the outstanding athlete was presented to "Money" Caballero.

R.O.T.C.

R. O.



Since its foundation at the university in 1947, the Reserve Officers Training Corps has gained recognition as one of the outstanding organizations on the campus. The basic student in R.O. T.C. learns the basic skills of the soldier. He learns the hows of mapping, first aid, basic weapons, and customs of the service. The basic also learns the drill that makes the well-trained soldier.

THE STAFF

The ability of the athletic staff of Loyola can be seen easily by the records compiled by Wolfpack teams during the past year. The players had the guidance of expert staff members to weld them into efficient, winning teams.

When a team depends heavily upon freshmen and sophomore talent, the importance of the athletic staff is even greater, and Loyola's teams this year were just such teams. All of them were studded with young players. Matched against more experienced foes, the Wolfpack teams achieved an excellent record. We may well be proud of them and the athletic staff which helped make their success possible.

Moderator of Athletics, Father O'Flynn concluded his second year on the staff. Next year he takes over the duties of Athletic Director, succeeding Jack Orsley, who did an excellent job this past year. Orsley will continue as head coach of the baseball team.

Tom Haggerty and "Big Jim" McCafferty turned in their usual fine jobs as basketball and track coaches respectively, and will carry on next year. Ed Fricke will also continue to "push" Loyola University into the public eye, as Director of Athletic Publicity.

MONROE CABALLERO, Team Captain and outstanding player of the '51-'52 squad.

This season saw the Wolves take on some of the toughest opponents in their history with the record—20 games won and 14 lost—failing to give a true indication of the team's ability.

Tackling some of the nation's top hardfloormen, they gave an excellent account of themselves. The Wolves are well on the way towards becoming a recognized power in national basketball.

JOE FUSELIER
Team Captain

Coached by "Big Jim" McCafferty, our Loyola track squad literally ran away with honors in intercollegite competition this season, winning first place in four major track and field meets.

The team won the Southern Relays, the Southwestern Relays, the Gulf States Conference Track Meet, and the Southern Amateur Athletic Union Meet.

Led by Captain Joe Fusilier, our thinclads had little competition, making up for the lack of first place wins with the depth that captured the majority of 2nds, 3rd, and 4ths.

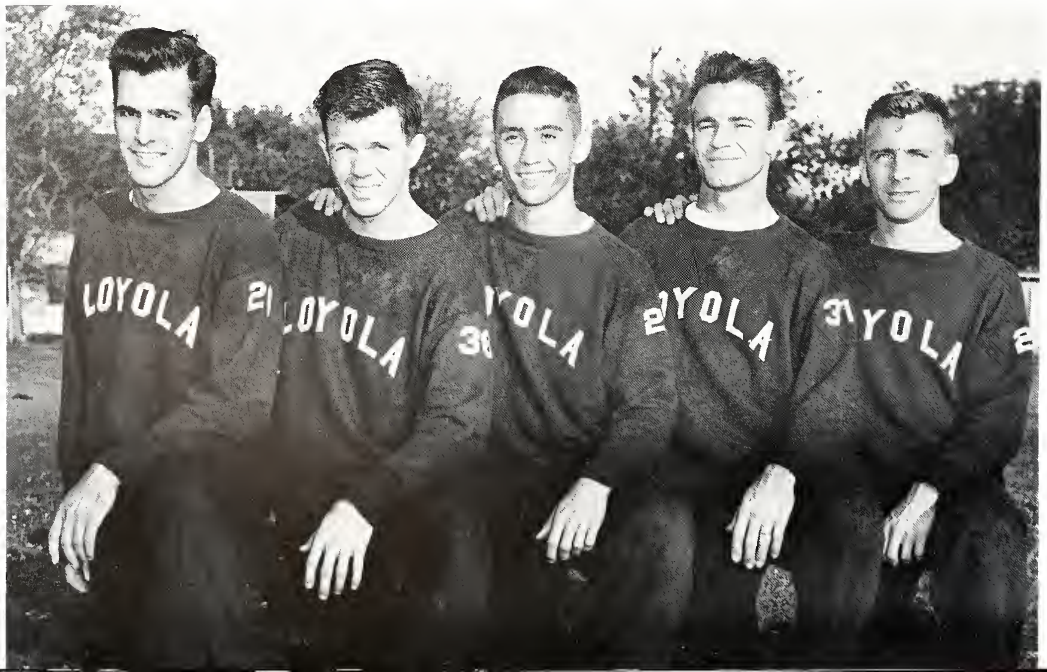
Relay Boys—left to right—Larry Derbes, Elmer Grundmeyer, Fritz Westenberger, Ray Grenier, Ken Leithman.



Ray Rocker, All-GSC discus and shot put performer.

Roland Hymel, All-GSC pole vaulter.

The relay team, composed of Derbes, Grundmeyer, Westenberger, Grenier, and Leithman, was considered one of the top shuttle teams in the region this summer.

Rocker, adept in the use of the discus, javelin, and shot-put, proved a triple threat to the opposition, amassing many needed points in crucial meets.

Former team captain Ken Leithman, with the other men of the relay squad, proved quite capable in the sprints. The added help of Frank Varela and Bill Waguespack in the hurdles, and the latter's prowess in the hop, step, and jump, and broad jump, were more feathers in the Pack's cap.

What is more, Coach McCafferty has excellent prospects for a great team next season, with men like Ray Heap in the sprints, John Becnel in the two mile, and Jim Stack in the broad jump.

Frank Varela passes the baton to Maurice Riley in the Mile relay.

S. A. A. U.

A mighty Loyola track team amassed a total of 176 points to run away with the Senior Southern AAU track and field title held at Behrman Stadium.

Led by Bill Waguespack, high scorer of the meet with 35 points, the team captured seven first and five second places. Depth gave many additional places which account for the runaway victory.

G. S. C.

Although injury-riddled toward the last of the season, McCafferty's squad hobbled away with both the GSC and SAAU meets.

This was a typical show of spirited determination by our thinclads, who are always out there digging for extra yardage, running, jumping, vaulting to win. Returning veterans and a crop of apt freshmen will attempt next season to continue "digging to win."

BASEBALL

The baseball team, under the capable direction of Coach Jack Orsley, won seventeen and lost nine of the games played. Though the Wolves lost the CSC crown to Southwestern in a playoff match, their Conference record was 11 won, 3 lost, a commendable record for the diamond men.

Six freshmen, a sophomore, and two seniors, started for the Wolves. Before the end of the season all were veteran players. Although the infield had four freshmen, it was one of the most polished combinations in GSC competition. Batting averages were very high, considering the Pack's experience.

THE CLUB

The team was well supplied with talent in pitchers Goodman, Roussel, Majoria, and Bellaire, with Captain Billy Glennon, and Pat O'Shaughnessy on the receiving end. Green hurlers John Rogers, Dave Naumann, and Mike Dolan have been looking good in practice sessions, and should turn in fine performances next season. Utility catcher Ed Krieger is a hustling contender for O'Shaughnessy's receiving slot.

Outfielders—left to right—Roy Serpas, Marty Pfister, Carl Poche, Roy Lamy. Left to right—Larry Magner, Roy Serpas, Pat O'Shaughnessey, Butsy Zimmerman.

Marty Power pegs it in home.

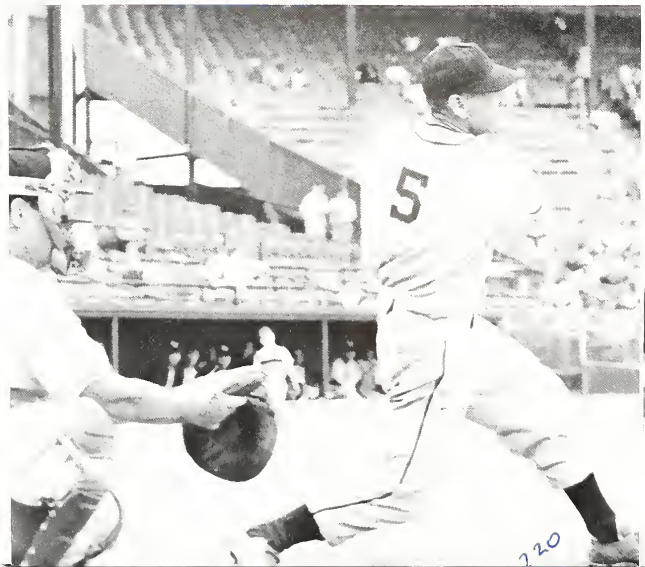
Pre-game practice for Jerry Wagener, Al Seeger and Marion Dauphin.

LIMBERING UP

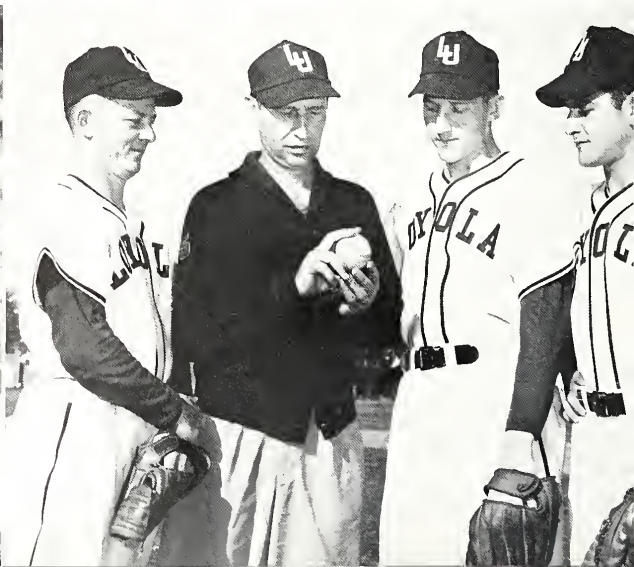
A horsehide-tight infield composed of Dauphin (first), Seeger (second), Wagener (short), and Magner (third) performed in major league style both on the diamond and at the plate.

Operating in the pasture, outfielders Poche, Pfister, Lamy and Serpas were competent ground coverers. Swinging the hickory also came easily to these men, with Pfister taking the batting average crown.

Marty Pfister lays into a good pitch.



Talking it over are Marty Power, Coach Orsley, Moon Landrieu and Tony Majoria.



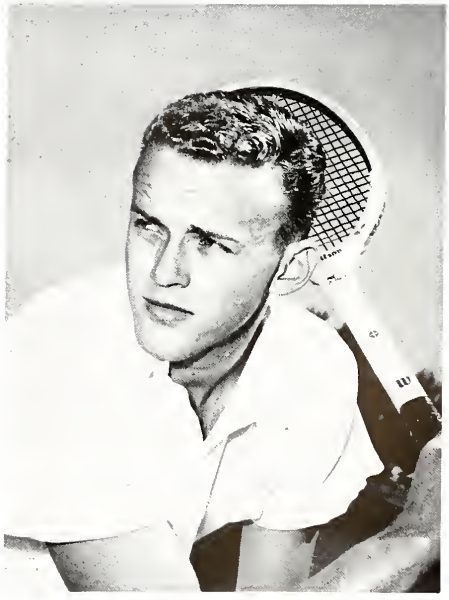
Another hit into left field by Billy Glennon.

AGAINST THE PELS

In an exhibition game against the Pelicans, a first division team in the Southern Association, the Pack took the short end of a 6-0 count. Majoria, credited with the loss, turned in an excellent pitching performance for the Pack.

A Pel beats out a close one.

TEN



BOB HANBERG
Outstanding Player

Led by the outstanding play of Bob Hanberg and Reggie Garcia, pack netmen won their third straight Gulf States Conference championship this year.

In all competition, the team played eleven matches, winning seven and losing four.

Hanberg's mighty forehand failed him only once during the season, wehn in the final match of the year, he lost to Kaiser of Miami University.

Capable performances by the rest of the team netted the championship and many enjoyable afternoons to students, who viewed the home games.

ARCHERY

Led by Roland Hymel and Henry Burch, Loyola's archers placed second in national collegiate competition this year. The bowmen had the capable direction of Fr. William Mulherin.

Roland Hymel, nosed out of first place by 1.2 points in total averages, placed second, and Henry Burch finished third. Teammates Myron Greenleaf and Clarence Truxillo took twelfth and sixteenth place respectively in the national standings.

INTRAMURALS

Intramurals this year were led by a group of hustling dentists, who captured top awards in softball (jungle), football (touch) and track. In the track events the dentists took more than half the points. This season was marked by a larger turnout of both players and spectators.

SPORTS LAGNIAPPE

With the event of Loyola's expanding athletic program, emphasis upon intramural activity rises, for it is by trial and error that students with better than average scholastic and athletic ability are discovered.

ON THE CAMPUS

The Rev. Edward A. Doyle, speaking before students at the athletes' banquet, said that "it is not the intention of the university to develop intellectual geniuses, nor do we aim to turn out muscle-bound apes, but to strike a happy medium. That is, to turn out solid, virile, Catholic, virtuous gentlemen." —Nuff said.

At last the 1952 WOLF is a reality.

The few sketches first put on paper in June, 1951, after having been discussed, argued over, modified, revised, discarded, retrieved, and argued over again, are now realities. It's been a tough job publishing this book; tougher than either of us thought when we first took over. But it would have been infinitely tougher had we not been blessed with as ambitious and persistent a staff as the one that has gathered the material for and published this yearbook. For their work we humbly say "thank you."

Naturally there are many other "thank you's" to spread around.

Thank you, Father Toomey, for giving us the opportunity to edit the WOLF;

Thank you, Porter Dozier and your staff at the Shreveport Engraving Company for putting our ideas in artistic form; your technical advice was much appreciated;

Thank you, Wallace Moritz and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Crockett of Wallace Studios for your sharp student and faculty portraits;

Thank you, Bill Dymond and Joe Famiglio of the American Printing Company for your fast service;

Thank you, Deans, Regents and Registrars for your cooperation in giving us class rolls and the like;

Thank you, Paul Steen, for your technical advice;

Thank you, Father O'Flynn, for giving us your broad shoulders to cry on when things looked dark;

Thank you, Russ Cresson, for your expert and valuable photographic advice.

Thank you, Roy Masson, for your terrific aerial shot of the university campus;

And a special "thank you" goes to Clyde St. Romain and Madeleine Duvic, co-editors of the '53 WOLF, for generously putting the finishing touches on the '52 WOLF.

To all these folks and to all who have contributed throughout the year to the success of this '52 WOLF, we again say "thank you!"

JULIE DONAHUE and JOHN BROWNE,
Co-editors, 1952 WOLF
